TESTIMONIALS:

JOHN JERRY JASPIO

Technology and Digital Innovation Office

"During the short time that we have been working here, I have come to realize that we are privileged to be in a position to empower others to have a good life. We are in a unique position to be agents of change so that eventually, our marginalized fellow Filipinos will become included as well."

ANGELA LUZ PERERAS

Communication Office

"The YPP has given me an avenue to develop my skills and to acquire new knowledge. I can say that this has been the biggest twist in my life. I have always been sure that I will not leave the private sector. Looking back, I was just an aspiring public servant and now, I am one."

DIEGO ANTONIO ENRIQUEZ

Financial Supervision Department IV

"The Program was a great opportunity to be a part of one of the most respected and well-run organizations in the country. The goal and motivation was to learn, contribute to the organization and serve my country. As an Iskolar ng Bayan, I thought that now is a good time to give back to the country and what better way to do it than through service."

What is the YPP?

- The YPP is a talent acquisition and 18-month professional and leadership development program of the BSP. The Program participants are initially hired as Central Bank Associates (CBAs) and are assigned to work at the BSP Head Office (Manila City) or Security Plant Complex (Quezon City).
- The Program aims to develop the CBAs to become future BSP leaders through trainings and other workplace development interventions.
- The CBAs are deployed in three (3) different BSP departments for six (6) months each. The CBAs are expected to learn the relevance and impact of the BSP's mandate within the context of the Philippine society, and translate this learning through a project or research that can address a specific central banking issue or operational challenge.
